Mystic Alley update

A magical market place

On Sunday December 13th, The Simmering Cauldron holds its third annual Mystic Alley event at Montgomery Town Hall. Mystic Alley provides a unique opportunity to shop for gifts for the Festive Season that would not be found in shopping malls. Many stallholders are also craftspeople and visitors can browse amongst stalls selling mosaic mirrors, gemstone jewellery, Celtic artwork, hand blended incense, tree charms and more. We are also proud to have with us this year, two local authors who will be selling signed copies of their books, as well as local photographer, Tracey Swain, recently featured in the local press.

Music and Food

To make the experience even more relaxing and pleasurable, home made food will be available and folk music will be on offer. Local band Tickety-boo will be performing, together with old favourites, Full Astern. Tickets to the event allow visitors to come and go all day, so it's an excellent opportunity to spend the day in this lovely county town. Why not visit the Castle, wander the quaint streets or visit a hostelry?

This year's charity

Each year, The Simmering Cauldron donates the profits from the organisation of this popular event to a charity. This year will be no exception and the money will be given to The Montgomery Community Care Project. The aim of this organisation is to provide a wide range of facilities for the residents of the town, including respite and day care for the elderly and infirm, together with a 'drop in' centre for a wide range of age groups.

Mystic Alley opens at 10am and closes at 4pm. Admission is £1.50 or £1.00 for concessions or Cauldron Card holders.

See you there

It's all happening in Welshpool Market Hall!

A while ago we outlined the changes being planned in Welshpool, Newtown and Montgomery market venues. Well, the Welshpool Town Hall market changes are now very much happening. A 'Victorian village' is being built inside the market halls with various sizes of permanent 'shops' plus a number of 'spaces' for stalls that are not going to be attending all the opening days of the market (planned to be 6 days from Easter).

The market will be opening as normal during the building work.

As we plan to continue attending only on the Monday we will in one of the 'spaces' and our stall is now in the bottom corner of the main hall, currently to the left of the Christmas tree.

If all goes according to plan the work will be complete by Easter and a sparking new shopping venue will emerge. We have our fingers crossed and look forward to meeting customers old and new in our new 'naughty corner'.

Our Yuletide shopping is done!

As outlined in our last newsletter we have been shopping and now have an even bigger range of goodies on the stall. A mixture of ever popular and new ranges. So come along and browse!

Greenway Manor

Some of you may remember Dawn Clifford, hypnotherapist and her partner, Adrian Barnes from our Mind Body, Spirit Fairs over the last few years. Dawn and Adrian recently took on a property at Crossgates, near Llandrindod Wells, called Greenway Manor.

After a good deal of hard work, some of the facilities are now ready for use. One large room is available for meetings and small conferences or even mini exhibitions. There are also two therapy rooms available. Dawn and Adrian can provide some B&B with facilities for the disabled and can offer finger buffets for events.

Greenway Manor is an impressive mock Tudor building set in lovely grounds and surrounded by beautiful countryside.

If you are interested in booking rooms for any purpose, Adrian and Dawn will be happy to discuss your plans.

Seasonal Fragrance

To create a warm, inviting fragrance in your home this Yuletide, put seven drops of orange oil in the bowl of your oil burner, add five drops of cinnamon oil and two drops of clove oil. Add water and light the candle. The resulting aroma is comforting and festive. Orange oil also relaxes and puts people at their ease, encouraging conversation. So why not try it out when entertaining family and friends?
